Report of the Executive Director –

- Ty Warner said he attended and was on a panel for the launch of the strategic plan for regional development spearheaded by the NWI Forum (“Ignite the Region: Northwest Indiana’s Strategy for Transformation”), for which he served on the Leadership Group. Though there are no initiatives for which NIRPC is specifically tagged that have not already stemmed from prior planning initiatives including the 2040 Plan, “Ignite the Region” aligns the efforts of NWI’s regional agencies toward strategic goals. One of the recommendations, which is very helpful, is for the region to support NIRPC’s efforts to close the loop on the Economic Development District designation. The plan also syncs with the development of the 2050 Plan. The strategic plan also support NIRPC hosting a Regional Economic Development Summit through the Economic Development Administration that will bring other federal partners to match federal programs to the region’s desired projects, which is planned for November 14. Heather Ennis thanked NIRPC and the communities for their participation in creating the plan. The plan is on the Northwest Indiana Forum’s website at www.nwiforum.org/economic-initiative.
Mr. Warner referenced the activity outside the building. 300 trees are being delivered today as part of the US Forest Service’s CommuniTrees program. A workshop will be held here on October 19 on trees and tree ordinances.

Mr. Warner referred to the copy of a Northwest Indiana Times editorial provided at the request of Kevin Breitzke on driving deaths in the region. The Time’s report on this last weekend correlates to NIRPC’s efforts to reduce congestion through livable communities, transit-oriented development, safety targets and other programs to increase mobility and reduce the need for vehicle trips.

Related to the value of creating opportunities for other transportation modes, Mr. Warner invited the Commissioners to take copies of the new Greenways and Blueways maps that have recently been printed and are being distributed throughout the region.

NIRPC business will be conducted first at 8:30 a.m., and then at 9:30 a.m. the Environmental Protection Agency will join the committee to develop a Northwest Indiana sub-area contingency plan for emergencies for environmental instances. The Technical Planning Committee will meet on October 9 at 9 a.m. at NIRPC.

Mr. Warner added that the PowerPoint presentations on the Performance Based Planning Framework and Programmatic Investment Approach are being worked through NIRPC’s committees. While

Ed Soliday said the at-grade crossing experiments were mostly in Northwest Indiana with safety and congestion relief primary goals. Communities should make sure they apply for Community Crossings before the deadline. Charles Bradsky added that Northwest Indiana had six of the 36 applications submitted for Local Trax.
